Susan Horn-Deubel Agent Named Charter Member of Insurance Consumer Society

El Dorado Hills, June 19, 2005 The National Society of Agents for Consumer Education (NSACE) has named El Dorado Hills insurance professional Susan Horn-Deubel as a Charter Member. The appointment recognizes Susan's commitment to providing quality insurance education to her clients and potential clients. Susan's agency, focuses many of her community efforts on providing useful consumer tips, information and analysis to business owners and individuals in the areas of life and property/casualty insurance.

"Susan Horn-Deubel is truly committed to educating her clients and other consumers on aspects of insurance that every policyholder should know," said Michael Jans, CAE, Executive Vice President of the NSACE. "It's no wonder that she gets many of her new clients because of her educational efforts. Her endeavors have helped build credibility and trust for the insurance industry."

The National Society of Agents for Consumer Education is an organization of insurance professionals committed to centering their marketing and customer service initiatives around providing "common language" and useable insurance information to consumers and clients.
